

The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, September 10 1707.

From the Antwerp Courant dated Sept. 16.

Palermo. Aug. 8.

SINCE our new Viceroy the Marquis de los Balbafes arriv'd here from Genoa, he endeavours all he can, to put this Kingdom into a good Condition, and to maintain the Interest of the Present Government: But the Loss of the Kingdom of Naples seems to have divided the Affections of the Nobility and Commonalty. The Viceroy has posted all the Troops that are in this Kingdom, in this City, in Messina, and in the Castle of Syracuse, which three Places he will endeavour principally to keep. We have Advice that 25000 Pistoles, which the Marquis de los Balbafes sent in a Felucca to the Duke d'Escalona, are carried safe to Gaeta.

From the Leiden and Amst. Gazette, dated Sept. 16.

Naples, Aug. 23. Count Martiniz, our new Viceroy, is endeavouring to find out Means to suppress all the Gabel's with which the People are overburden'd. The Secretary of War, who was look'd upon to be disaffected, is turn'd out, and the Secretary of the Court of Justice is put into his Room. Count Taun, between whom and our Viceroy there is no very good Understanding, is come hither from before Gaeta. The ill Administration of the Bank of the Poor having given Cause for several Complaints, the Banker or Treasurer is taken into Custody, but the other Officers are got out of the Way. Great Preparations are continu'd to be made for the intended Siege of Gaeta, and 100000 Ducats have been borrow'd of the chief Merchants of this City; and Part of the Revenues of the Crown are mortgag'd to them for their Security. A Tartane coming from Sardinia, and laden with Meal and other Provisions for Gaeta, has been taken near that Place. They write from the Abruzzo, that 200 Germans and 300 Neapolitans of the Troops of that famous Scapaleggia are enter'd into Garrison in the Town and Castle of Aquila; and that the Duke of Atri is retir'd into Pescara, where he pretends to make a vigorous Defence, in case he be attack'd.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Sept. 16.

Rome, Aug. 27. The Cardinal del Giudici having an Audience tother Day of the Pope, made great Complaints to him of Count Martiniz, the new Viceroy of Italy, for that he had put under Sequestration the Revenues of the Benefices that had been given him in that Kingdom by Pope Alexander VIII. and 'tis said his Holiness resents it so highly, that he has sent Orders to his Nuncio at Naples, to threaten Count Martiniz with Excommunication, unless he forthwith take off that Sequestration. The Prince of Taxis, the Constable Colonna, and several other Lords dispatch'd last Night an Express to the King of Spain Charles III. to make some Remonstrances to him, concerning the true Interests of the Kingdom of Naples, against Count Martiniz; who has taken from the Constable Colonna the Annual Pension of 5000 Ducats which he receiv'd from the Kingdom of Naples, because he had admitted some of the Pope's Troops into Garrison in the Fortrefs of Pagliano. Cardinal Grimani has receiv'd Letters from some Neapolitan Lords, wherein they complain that Count Martiniz has confirm'd in their Employments Persons known to be well-affect'd to King Philip. They write from Romania, that 3000 Germans, after they had rested three Days at Gulia Nova, were march'd towards Ciudad San Angelo; where they were join'd by some Reinforcements from Naples; and from thence were to march without Delay, with 6 Pieces of heavy Cannon and good store of Ammunition, to form the Siege of Pescara in the Abruzzo; whether the Duke of Atri was retir'd.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Sept. 16.

Rome, Aug. 27. The excessive Heats continue to cause Distempers here, and in the neighbouring Country, especially in the Places that were formerly laid under Water by the Earthquakes. Imperial Officers pass daily through this Place in their Way to Naples: From whence many Persons arrive here, who have been oblig'd to leave that Kingdom in pursuance of the Edict lately publish'd by Count Martiniz. The Duke of Sora has made his Peace with the Imperial Ministers, by the Mediation of Cardinal Ruffo. The Duke of Lofrano is gone for Naples; and the Prince of Taxis, who had put over his Gates the austrian Arms of Spain, has been order'd to retire out of this City, the Court being desirous to avoid the Imputation of conniving at his so doing.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Sept. 17.

Rome, Aug. 27. The Prince of Taxis has not obey'd the Pope's Command to take down the Arms of King Charles III. from the Gates of his Palace; alledging that the Palace belongs to the Emp'rour, and that he himself is a Subject and Minister of the said King. However to avoid all Danger he is retir'd into the Church of the Guardian Angel, and has order'd his Palace to be shut up; but the Arms remain over the Gates.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Sept. 13.

Vienna, Aug. 31. We have here a Copy of the Pope's Excommunication of the Duke of Savoy, and some of the Emperour's and his Royal Highness's Ministers and Generals. Among other Cause alledg'd against the Duke, one is, that he had oblig'd the Clergy, who had purchas'd Estates in Land, to pay as great Taxes as the former Proprietors had paid. The Reason why several Generals were excommunicated is, because they took up Winter Quarters in the Territories of Parma, which is a Fief of the Church. The Pope has reserv'd to himself the Absolution, except at the Hour of Death: and even in that Case, if the Persons absolv'd should happen to recover their Health, the Excommunication is to remain in Force notwithstanding the Absolution. 'Tis furnish'd here from this Proceeding of the Pope, that an Alliance is concluded between his Holyness and some other Potentates of Italy.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Sept. 13.

Turin, Aug. 27. Yesterday in the Evening the Monitories of Excommunication lately publish'd by the Court of Rome against our Duke, were declar'd by the chief of our Magistrates, who with the Assistance of the most eminent Lawyers and six Theologians were appointed to examin into that Affair, to be null and invalid. And this Declaration will be publish'd not only in this City, but thro' the whole Dominions of his Royal Highness.

Long before any such thing as a Venetian Strop was ever hatcht or thought on, were often publish'd the true Original Strops for setting Razors, Pen-knives and Lancets to a most exquisite fine Edge, and polishing them to an extraordinary Brightness, and had not these been known to answer the just Character given them through the whole Nation, the Venetian Author had never Auct'd 'em under a Sham Title, and had the Impudence to impose that Name upon those he knows to be the true ones first publish'd in England, therefore beware of those and other Counterfeits, the True ones being only Sold at John's Coffee-house in Sweeting's Alley near the Royal Exchange, at 1 s. each, with directions fix'd to 'em, as hath been often mention'd in the Gazette.
